The NATO Policy on System Life Cycle Management (SLCM) states that "the aim of SLCM is to optimise defence capabilities taking into account performance, cost, schedule, quality, operational environments, integrated logistic support and obsolescence over the whole life cycle."

After six successful LCM conferences in Brussels in 2001, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2010, this meeting addresses the subject of Life Cycle Management concentrating on the aspects of Interoperability and Cost Optimisation.

The conference will provide a forum for the exchange of views and ideas, of new and proven approaches for life cycle management and logistics integration among and between decision makers, programme managers experts and logisticians both from industry and military organisations.

Life Cycle Management in NATO

The Basis for Interoperability and Cost Optimisation

The conference is organised in cooperation with the NATO Life Cycle Management Group (LCMG) and the NATO Industrial Advisory Group (NIAG) and will be accompanied by a small, dedicated exhibition, where industry is offered the opportunity to showcase capabilities and products.

Like in previous years, speakers, delegates and exhibitors will take advantage of the luxurious ambience of the Pullman Brussels Airport Hotel, which has already provided proof of its value and capabilities as the venue of similar such events in the past few years.
